THE RIGHT WAY TO CUT

CRYSTAL SH 070

Innovative digital CNC single ply cutting machine

CRYSTAL SH070 is a revolutionary digital CNC cutting machine based on a unique patented cut on glass technology that drastically reduces recurring costs associated to the cutting process.

CRYSTAL SH070 has an innovative, silent and sustainable material retention system based on ionization that doesn't require noisy and expensive vacuum pumps.

The flatness of the glass cutting surface combined with a robust cutting head based on rotary blades assures an extremely precise cut.

A process that doesn't require disposables (such as paper and plastic film) combined with the use of materials such as glass and steel assures a unique clean cutting process suitable for the most demanding cutting rooms.

The machine is completely engineered and manufactured in Italy and the proprietary software can be extended according to specific customer requirements.

Crystal SH070 is a user friendly cutting system suitable for small volumes and prototypes cutting featuring tremendous startup time savings with the place and cut concept. Crystal SH 070 can be equipped with different cutting heads with single or double rotary blades optimized for specific materials.
